Tech ends her high school series o Friday with Business. No date has yet been considered for the Prep-Tech game, but as there will be no game in this city from the second Saturday of this month to Thanksgiving Day it is likely that Friday, November 22, will be agreed upon

As considerable interest has already been aroused by the discussion, it is like ly that one of the largest football crowds of the season will see the teams play.

THINKS YALE STRONGER.

W. and J. Captain Compares the Eli and Princeton Teams.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6 .- Although Yale defeated Washington and Jefferson College only 11 to 0, and Princeton beat the same team 40 to 0, Capt, Price, of the Princeton could defeat Yale. In discussing the two university elevens he said:

"I am inclined to think Yale a shade the stronger, and I look for an extremely close game. No comparison whatever can be made based on the two scores made against our team. We had an off day at Princeton, while the wet ball and slippery field made it impossible for Yale to roll up the score she could have made Bopp, Corcorans. Time of halves-20 minutes each, against us on a dry day. The superior strength of the Yale line will be a big factor in her success. From tackle to tackle Princeton's line is much weaker than Yale's. Yale's defense was the stiffest we have met this year. James our left guard, who outplayed McFayden Cooney of Vale did not show his strong remaining days of practice he will improve and develop into a valuable man. "Wister of Princeton, is the strongest end of either eleven, but Brown is better than Brides or Alcott, of Yale Yale will find it difficult to gain by end runs, while Princeton's fast and tricky "Dillon, of Princeton, is more than the equal of Tad Jones, of Yale, in generalship. Princeton's fast back field executes long forward pass and on-side kick which, with its bewildering accuracy, will give Yale considerable trouble.'

JOHNSON WARNS MINORS.

Says Small Leagues Will Be the Ones to Suffer if Brenk Comes.

Cincinnati, Nov. 6 .- President Ban John son of the American Basebell League, as a member of the National Commission. has issued a warning to the belligerant minor leaguers who made revolutionary speeches against the National Commis sion in New York last week. "The me doing all this talking about putting the National Commission out of business," said Mr. Johnson, "would be wise to be more moderate in their expressions. In the first place, no minor league, or set the "purity" representatives.

Three-legged race—Tumelty and Paul Allen, Cook and White, Robert Allen and Winemiller, Shehan and O'Sullivan, Morrison and Ogle, and Langley the first place, no minor league, or set of minor leaguers, will dictate to the National Commission what it shall or shall not do. I defy any of them to show one act in which the National Commission has shown favor to any one, either in major or in a minor league. Baseball is to be kept on its present high plane-by far the highest it has ever occupied. Th National Commission must be recognized as the court of final appeal, and if the minors break away from that condition. sion, will be the ones to suffer.'

YALE PRACTICE IN ARMORY.

Teams Have Hard Scrimmage and Signal Drill on Tanbark,

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6.-In the big tanbark arena at the Horse Guards Armory, the Yale team this afternoon went through the usual drill and scrimmage because the gridinon was inundated after a severe rainstorm.

Kicking had to be omitted, as the roof is of glass, but all other features of the daily routine, including scoring, were carried out. For the first half hour the practice was secret, and several new formations were gone through, under directions of the graduate coaches. After this the doors were thrown open.

Tad Jones did not play, but Coy was back at his usual position behind the line. The most important change was the reinstatement of Carroll Cooney at center In the scrimmage with the scrubs the eleven scored two touchdowns, the ball being advanced by line plunging and high run was 69, and Gallagher's 50. Mcclose formation. Coy carried the ball over Laughlin averaged 1415-21, and Gallagher the imaginary goal line both times.

Phillies Must Pay Lush,

Cincinnati, Nov. 6.-The National Baseball Commission to-day decided that the Philadelphia National League club must pay player John C. Lush from the time the season opened last spring up to and including the day on which he was released to the St. Louis club, according to the player's contract, at $500 per month. The Philadelphia club contended that the St. Louis club should pay this claim of the player, Winners Play Together Well, Which Accounts for Their Victory-Leach and Smith Play Strong Games.

The Y. M. C. A. and Corcorans o Class A inaugurated the season of the Washington City Basket-ball League at National Guard Armory last night, the former team winning after a hard-fought contest, by 28 to 17.

The game was exceedingly fast, and a number of penalties were inflicted on the players for breaches of the rules. The association team seemed to play more together than the soldiers, and this had a deal to do with the result. Leach, Washington and Jefferson eleven, says that he is by no means certain that Princeton could defeat Yale. In discussions
